Large ruin of farmhouse with annex and view, in beautiful settings near Peccioli

Large ruin of a Tuscan farmhouse, located in picturesque settings, with panoramic views of rolling hills, near Peccioli. The property consists of a two story main building and a farm building - also with two floors - of approximately 500 sqm total. Both buildings are in need of a complete restoration, and the many square meters, as well as the characteristic features, allow for you to create a dream home. The house is surrounded by approximately one hectare of land, leaving plenty of space to build a large garden and pool. The property is easily accessible, and located within walking distance of the village is Santo Pietro Belvedere, where basic necessities are available. The village Capannoli is only 2 km away, and offers a great selection of supermarkets and shops and a coffee bar.
