Charming tuscan farmhouse in stone, with panoramic view, within walking distance of Volterra

Charming 380 sqm Tuscan farmhouse in stone, with garden and panoramic view, located in walking distance from all necessities, and Volterra's beautiful medieval town center.

The well maintained house is currently divided into two separate living units which, however, can easily be united.

On the 2,5 hectare property, there is also a 60 sqm annex, which can be transformed into a guest house or similar.

The location of the property guarantees lots of privacy, while still having all necessities, restaurants and shops within walking distance. A perfect and rare combination of country- and city life.
